Who We Are:

The CReW Program (Counseling, Recovery, Wellness), is part of Catholic Community Services of King County. CReW is a licensed community mental health and outpatient substance use disorder treatment provider agency under the King County Integrated Care Network (KCICN).

Where We Are:

At CReW, we strive to meet people where it's most convenient for them. Our services are provided in a variety of settings in the downtown Seattle area, including personal residences, permanent supportive housing, transitional housing, homeless shelters and the streets.

What We Do:

Our services promote:

- Collaborative partnership with the person served,
- Development opportunities for personal growth,
- A commitment to community integration,
- Goal-oriented and individualized supports,
- Satisfaction and success in community living.

Who We Serve:

Our purpose is to assist adults living with mental health and substance use disorders to improve their quality of life through integrative, person-centered counseling services.

People served may be homeless or struggling to maintain their housing, living in poverty, and may have a history of hospitalizations or incarcerations.
