

Brad Owen
Lieutenant Governor

May 17, 2012

Greetings,

The opening of Villa los Milagros today marks a very historic day for Centralia and the State of Washington. This remarkable new community housing development will positively impact the lives of many families by providing a beautiful, stable and comforting home.

To develop housing of this magnitude and beauty takes the vision of an angel, the unstoppable determination and perseverance of an army general, and the steady and loving hand of a Mother Teresa. I want to congratulate Gloria Velasquez Burton for her leadership role in making this dream a reality. It is also important to recognize the commitment and work provided by the Boards of Trustees and Employees of Catholic Housing Services of Western Washington and Catholic Community Services of Western Washington. This is truly an amazing and successful team effort.

Villa los Milagros does not just translate to "the road to miracles" but will also serve as a symbol for the path to hope and success for families who will in turn pass on this miracle for generations to come.

Congratulations on this most impressive community accomplishment.

Sincerely,

Brad Owen
Lieutenant Governor